ABOUT PHOTOGRAPHS

How many of us have had our pictures taken, and did not like the result? Don't all speak at once.

Secretly we believe that the camera has not done us justice and in reality we are better looking than it depicts us.

If the counterfeit flatters us, we are not willing to admit that it portrays anything additional to our pristine pulchritude, and modestly show it to our friends in the expectation that they will declare it is a "perfect likeness."

HAS KICK COMING

There is one man in Contra Costa county occupying a position of eminence who has a legitimate kick coming at the photographer, and that personage is no other than Superior Judge Thomas D. Johnson.

There is an ancient custom in Contra Costa to have the pictures of our jurists hung on the walls of the corridors of the court house. Judicial history can thus be traced since its genesis here. Incidentally it is an aggregation of fine-looking men, a number of whom it has been my pleasure to know. They have one and all been ornaments to the bench and have lived up to the high ideals of that exalted position.

A few days ago when in Martinez I noticed a number of people going in and coming out of the chambers of Judge Johnson. Impelled by curiosity I stopped for a moment and was invited in.

Foiled Prison Break; Will Be Given Freedom

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Oct. 9.—UP—For his part in foiling the escape attempt of William Bagley since executed, Herman Sanders, 55-year-old prison trustee from Los Angeles, probably will be released Saturday, it was indicated today.

Released at that time would mean eight months from Sanders' 10-year term for a Los Angeles murder.

Despite rumors that the trustee's life may be endangered by those who resented his assistance in foiling Bagley's dash for freedom, the state board of prison terms and paroles was expected to take the action which will give the convict his liberty.

Sanders knocked Bagley unconscious after Bagley, awaiting hanging with Ethan McNabb, San Francisco "yacht bandit," broke from his cell on "death row" and subdued a guard.

Roosevelt Scored By Townsend

Machine Is Wrecked In Train Crash

BOSTON, Oct. 9. UP—Two of President Roosevelt's sons narrowly escaped death in an automobile-train collision tonight.

John A. Roosevelt, 19, Harvard sophomore, escaped with a bruised shoulder and James Roosevelt, 28, New York insurance man, was shaken up when the coupe John was driving crashed through locked crossing gates and sideswiped a train of the Boston-Revere Beach and Lynn railroad in East Boston.

Only an abrupt swerve of the wheel which sent the car along almost parallel with the moving train averted a head-on collision and probably death. The car was wrecked.

A reassuring account of the accident was wired the President, vacationing in the Pacific aboard the U. S. S. Houston by another son, Franklin, Jr., 21, a Harvard junior. Franklin, who has been arrested a number of times as a speeder and has been involved in two accidents, was at his dormitory when the crash occurred.

Giant Woman Is Injured In Car Accident Here

One person was slightly injured in an automobile accident in Richmond yesterday.

Mrs. Annie Hallum, of Giant, suffered cuts and bruises on her face when a car operated by her husband was involved in a collision with a car driven by Mrs. Ethel Jurs, of Piedmont. The accident happened at San Pablo and Macdonald avenue.

The injured woman refused medical treatment.

Both cars were badly damaged in the crash. Mrs. Jurs was driving south on San Pablo avenue while Hallum was making a left turn into Macdonald avenue when the crash occurred.

A number of improvements at his place of business was announced yesterday by Joe Perasso, local battery dealer at 1227 Macdonald avenue.

Perasso stated last evening that he is planning to make several important changes in his building, and that he will install some of the newest and most modern electrical devices. Perasso plans to make his battery shop one of the most modern in the county.

Perasso did not announce the cost of the new improvements.

Hauptmann Loses Plea For Retrial

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 9. UP—The law voice of a gray old man is the black robes of justice today killed the last real hope of Bruno Richard Hauptmann to escape the electric chair for the murder of Baby Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

The voice was that of Justice Charles W. Parker, 72, and it articulated in calm, measured tones the deliberate, unanimous opinion of the Court of Errors and Appeals, the tribunal of last resort in New Jersey.

The opinion, upholding a sentence that the stolid German carpenter must die in the electric chair, left only two narrow avenues of possible escape—and they probably are blind alleys to be traversed by the doomed man before a body-searing current sends him to face his maker.

The odds are infinitesimal that Hauptmann will not have been executed before December 1. Slim as those chances are, his counsel tonight said they would be played to the limit.

The routine hearing before the court of persons holds no hope of clemency. A remote possibility is intervention by the United States Supreme Court.

Church Crusade Opens At Dinner

The Wesley Methodist church launched its Loyalty Crusade last evening at a dinner meeting held at the church parlors.

With Dr. Hubert F. Doran the pastor, acting as chairman of the evening he told the congregation of the plans for the crusade.

Talks were heard from several members of the church during the evening.

The dinner was served by the ladies of the church.

Industry Is Held Factor Of U. S. Life

The importance of developing and fostering industry as the most vitalizing and humanizing factor in our national life, was the keynote of Industrial Day, celebrated yesterday at the Standard Oil refinery in Richmond, through a luncheon attended by nearly 200 of the leading figures of the bay region.

ENTED FOR ROLE

The gathering was large and representative. Every thread of endeavor which is woven into the fabric of home life in this bay region was present. Business, industry, city, county and state officials evidenced by their presence their appreciation of the contribution of industry to the prosperity of the community. It was a splendid and deserving tribute, but did not overemphasize industry or seek to take away credit from other factors which are vital and important in the economic scheme of things.

P. M. Sanford, president of the chamber of commerce, acted in the capacity of toastmaster and very acceptably filled that role by his own short talk and his introduction of the various speakers, being handsomely placed and aptly to the occasion.

THIRTEEN TO BROOKS

Once paused in an introductory speech in which he mentioned the names of many who had taken part in local industrial development, and paid a high tribute to Joseph P. Brooks, for outstanding civic efforts and cooperation, and expressed deep regret that the ex-manager of the Standard Oil plant here could not be present on this occasion.

WELCOMES INDUSTRY

"Wherever you find new comforts and conveniences made available in American life there you will find the civilizing and uplifting influence of industry and industry best demonstrated."

Travelers Take Long Route To Reach Australia

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9. UP—From London to Sydney, Australia, via the Suez Canal, is 13,343 miles. From London to Sydney via New York and San Francisco is 16,192, and by way of the Panama Canal, 19,062. Scores of travelers are taking the longer route. Reason: Italy-Ethiopia hostilities and the possible threat to the Suez Canal. Australians and New Zealanders, heading for home and spring in the antipodes, have booked almost every available passage on the S. S. Larline, sailing from this port next Tuesday.

Quinn today issued a temporary restraining order prohibiting chain stores in the county from reducing milk prices below 10 cents a quart.

Hearing on a permanent injunction was set for October 17.

12,000 SOLDIERS OF IL DUCE SAID DISEASE VICTIMS

LONDON, (Thursday) Oct. 10.—UP—Fear that a son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia has been slain in the fighting in northern Ethiopia was expressed by the Ethiopian legation today.

Heavy Battle Is Raging On South Fronts

(By H. R. FRANKS)

ETHIOPIAN SOUTHERN FIELD HEADQUARTERS near Jijiga, by Cooper to Harar, Oct. 9. UP—Heavy fighting started yesterday on the southern Odein front where Italian columns under General Rodolfo Graziani, invading Ethiopia from Italian Somaliland, attacked Ethiopian outposts in the fortified area of Garadad and elsewhere.

The Ethiopian army admitted heavy losses and continues to affirm that the Italian advance gas and chemicals.

OBJECTIVE SET

One of the Italian drive apparently was a line through Jijiga and Harar to the important railway junction at Dire Dawa and Addis Ababa. If this rail point is captured and traffic stopped, Addis Ababa will be cut off from its only rail outlet to the sea in French Somaliland.

Austria, Hungary Refuse Sanctions

GENEVA, Oct. 9. UP—Effective action of League penalties against Italy was threatened seriously when Austria and Hungary refused to join approximately 20 League nations in economic and financial punishment of the attacker of Ethiopia.

"The road remains open," the Italian spoke man exclaimed joyfully when the two Central European nations had made known their stand. The Italian hope to receive raw materials from Germany and wheat and other farm products from Hungary, both by way of Austria.

50 NATIONS APPROVE
Other League powers still believed, despite Italy's optimism, that the measures which approximately 50 nations will adopt at tomorrow's Assembly session will cause France, Austria and Hungary soon to sue for peace. They have these reasons:

1. The League now plans a collective boycott of Italian goods, thus cutting off Italy's supplies of foreign exchange and making it difficult for her to make purchases from Germany, Austria and Hungary.

CUT OFF SUPPLIES
2. The League members can cut off certain key war products, such as petroleum and nickel.

Auto Show Is Cancelled By Mechanics' Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—UP—Cancellation of the 20th annual Pacific Auto Show scheduled for Nov. 2 to 9 because of an auto mechanics strike was announced today.

Approximately 45 automobile repair shops have been closed by the strike. Involving union demands for recognition.

"There is involved no question of wages or hours, work shop conditions or child labor," Don Gilmore, president of the local Motor Car Dealers Association, said.

"There appears to be no issue involved except the closed shop and the hiring hall, and the dealers sincerely regret their inability to compromise on these points."

AID PLANS ARE LASHED BY SPEAKER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Branding the Roosevelt relief and public works programs as "just alms," Dr. Francis E. Townsend today outlined the political strategy whereby his old age pension organization expects to control Congress and to force enactment of his $200 a month annuity to men and women over 60 years of age in the United States.

ISSUES WARNING

"We don't propose to let a man or woman go to Congress from California who is not solidly back of us," said Dr. Townsend in discussing his political program. "Our strategy throughout the United States is to go into every congressional district with well organized clubs, which will be able to absolutely control the people who are to run for Congress," said the 71 year old Long Beach father of the Townsend plan.

Here are some of the political observations of Dr. Townsend: "No person will be able to do."

Captain Confirms Rich Gold Strike In Fiji Islands

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—UP—Rumors of a phenomenally rich gold strike in the Fiji Islands were confirmed in part today by Captain E. R. Johanson of the S. S. Monterey.

Returning to San Francisco from a South Seas trip Capt. Johanson said that four men, all prominent in Australian affairs, recently sold their interests in the Tavua field in Fiji for $1,500,000 cash and shares worth $2,500,000.

The men were John Wren, P. E. Cody, Frank Parker and E. G. Theodore. Principal property involved in the transaction was said to be the Empire mine, which is expected to produce up to $15,000,000 in gold in the next 10 years.

The Fiji gold field is closed to outsiders inasmuch as its development is carefully restricted by British law.

Two Are Named To Collect Back Gasoline Taxes

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 9.—UP—John P. Wilkinson of New Orleans and W. I. Stevenson of St. Louis tonight held authority of State Finance Director A. E. Stockburger to collect back gasoline taxes on a percentage basis.

Wilkinson and Stevenson held a similar contract with the late Huey P. Long in Louisiana and with the states of Wyoming and Pennsylvania.

According to Wilkinson, gasoline expands and contracts when temperatures vary and as a result of certain accounting methods distributing companies may appropriate to themselves a portion of the tax they collect from their agencies on filling stations.

CARDS FEAR UPSET
PALO ALTO, Oct. 9. UP.—The Stanford Indians regard the U. C. game Saturday as one of the toughest on the schedule.

A growing respect for Coach Bill Spaulding's 1935 Bruin squad was apparent on the farm today as "Lanky" Hunt, Cardinal scout at the UCLA-Oregon State game, reported the southerners to be "just wild enough to be effective."

He warned that Charles, the sly, tricky triple-threat is dangerous every time he carries the ball, and that his team is willing to go the whole route with a wide open attack in order to get out of the "defeatist" column.

The Cardinal squad was to get together today as they worked out the last one before Saturday. Tomorrow and Friday will be spent in tapering-off drills.

Jury Fails To Fix Death Blame

COLORADO SPRINGS, Oct. 9. UP.—A coroner's jury attempted vainly today for a second time to piece together the puzzling death of pretty Margaret Wilbur, 21-year-old Colorado College student.

The jury had recessed for a week in the hope some new evidence might be discovered explaining how Miss Wilbur, deserting her escort, Kenneth Garrett, fell over an 11-foot concrete and stone wall into the creek.

Garrett and his brother-in-law, George Sleppy, 32-year-old grocer, were detained incommunicado for several days but were released after the first session of the jurors a week ago. Deal said all evidence indicated the death of the girl was accidental.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant.

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleans mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

GEYSERVILLE IS RAZED BY MYSTERY FIRE

GEYSERVILLE, Oct. 9.—UP.—A mysterious fire which for a time threatened to destroy the town of Geyserville, today had been confined to four buildings in the business district.

The fire was discovered about 9 P.M. last night in the Ferguson hardware store. It was brought under control many hours later after a loss estimated at $50,000, partly covered by insurance.

Both the Geyserville and Healdsburg fire departments were called to combat the flames.

Telephone communication and electric light service were interrupted for a time.

At the height of the disaster, the water pressure almost failed, and an extra call was sent to Healdsburg and Cloverdale for volunteer fire fighters.

Almost 100 men fought the flames but were unable to do more than prevent spread of the fire. Two men were burned. One victim was Roy Stockham, grocer. Another was an unidentified volunteer fire fighter who was burned while carrying furniture from a residence.

Alaskan Town Badly Damaged By Wind, Rains

BETHEL, Alaska, Oct. 9. UP.—Waters of the raging Kuskokwim river, coupled with booming tide and the highest winds ever seen here, spewed devastation over the Bethel region tonight.

Homes of five natives were washed into the sea, with others expected to go. There were no known deaths, but homes fled from their homes before the rising waters.

Fifteen fishing vessels, anchored in Bethel harbor, capsized in the wind and sank.

The wharf for the mission school and hospital was blown away. Twelve feet of water covered the Bethel airport, submerging the three airplanes stationed there.

PROFESSIONAL BUSINESS WOMEN ORGANIZE CLUB

A group of business and professional women met Tuesday evening at Mrs. Marion McNutt's Club will be on October 22.

INDUSTRY IS HELD FACTOR OF U. S. LIFE

Richmond, Oct. 9. (UP.)—Industry has been pointed in recent years as the culprit, and so-called middle class, interested in nothing but its own pocket, was the Richmond paper's different view.

We believe industry to be the greatest blessing in factor in our national life today, and therefore we in Richmond and in Contra Costa county shall continue to urge it and to draw more of it to the communities as time goes on.

SOLIDS WARNING NOTE

Frederick J. Foster, former head of the California State Chamber of Commerce, issued a note of warning against present-day "wily" thinking, which robs the individual of self-respect and self-reliance which is generally termed "social security."

"Just now an national attention is centered on politics when it should be centered on industry," Foster said. "It is the real creator of wealth."

Industry, he said, "is the industry that gives us everything and takes nothing away, building up a sound economic situation without which our vaunted liberties are worth nothing. Industry and business really are of the highest morality because they serve the people in the highest and best sense. In these days of shift and change, industry and business must stand up and fight against destructive tendencies if we want our institutions to keep the country growing in the future as they have in the past."

MAKES STRONG PLEA

Frederick J. Foster made a plea for recognition on the part of industrialists of the importance of the local harbor.

"It is now time," he said, "for us to begin to capitalize fully on the development program so aggressively launched and so intelligently carried out during recent years. Our harbor is our greatest asset, not alone to the community at large but to those in charge of industry in Richmond and in the county. There is ample tonnage in this immediate vicinity to support our harbor, tonnage which could flow in the most natural manner through the port of Richmond. For your industrial leaders to give your tangible support to the Richmond harbor is to protect your own interests and to maintain the value of the industrial lands for which Richmond and the county are noted."

TEAM WORK PRAISED

City Attorney Tom Carlson was pictured by the teammaster as an outstanding example of a man whose public-spirited activities extended beyond the confines of his own city, county and state to national beneficial movements.

"When asked to talk for five minutes at the conclusion of this wonderful gathering," Carlson began, "I pondered long on what I was going to say."

"It is impossible for a football fan to forget that game of last Saturday between California and St. Mary's. Perhaps you noticed if you were there, the man who carried the ball over the line for the first score, Ken Cotton? His task no sooner done, and it made him a hero, then he turned to the line-men and patted their backs, indicating that without help that a touchdown would have been impossible. It was a graceful, yet after all a deserving gesture and placed credit where it was rightfully due. That was team play and that is what in the final analysis spells victory—coordination and unity of effort. That same principle holds essentially true here in Richmond. We have all tried to pull together for community good and betterment and progress and we appreciate the action of our industries in the parlous times through which we have lately passed in keeping their wheels turning, giving the greatest number of men possible work and in maintaining a high standard of wages."

"When radicals came here to preach the doctrine that American people, doctrines and institutions were all wrong, our city and county held the line against their assaults and told them that this was no place to scatter seeds of dissension and unrest. Thank God, we have team play here with labor and capital going forward hand in hand and with understanding of the needs and problems of each. It is this spirit which has brought Richmond and Contra Costa county to the forefront along industrial lines and it is this same spirit, which I can readily envision, will ultimately make Richmond the industrial capital of the West."

Admits Murder Of Two Stepchildren

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9. (UP.)—Pern Rowland, 45-year-old Harrison, Mich. farmer, confessed to St. Louis police tonight he murdered his two step-children last September 1, handing them with wire to a phonograph and throwing their bodies into Flood Lake near Flint.

He was arrested today by Chief of Detectives John J. Carroll and Prosecutor Theodore Howley, of St. Louis, while registered under the name of "H. Lamont" at a St. Louis hotel. He was traced here through a letter written to his wife who was arrested at Harrison, police said.

Best Mayor W. W. Scott made the welcoming address on the half of the City of Richmond. Among those introduced by San Francisco were San Francisco Mayor J. E. Fisher, vice president of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, Charles Knight, representing the State Chamber of Commerce, John H. Hower, president of the Standard Oil company, and Joseph M. Parker, managing director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. E. C. Dalton, San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

J. Linday Palma of the Standard Oil company, represented the Standard Oil company of California, which was screened at Memorial hall.

FATHER, SON ADMIT KILLING; TO STRIFE IN PEACE REMAINS CLAIM MISTAKE FRISCO DOCKS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9. (UP.)—Convicted that a man named "H. Lamont" would lead directly to their identification of the slayers of Henry Parish, a father and son today possibly victims of a mistake, the father and son in their alleged confessions said they had been conditioned to what they thought was a deer, flushing up for their quarry, they found a dead deer. Then, they said, they "killed" the deer, and were not guilty about the incident for fear of murder charges.

The father said that after the hunt for Parish failed, he and his son went to their home and made ballistic tests of their rifles. Officers said these tests apparently convinced them that bullets from both guns easily could be identified, inasmuch as both made the purported confessions shortly after police asked for their guns for tests.

It was indicated the pair may be held on manslaughter charges.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9. (UP.)—Longshoremen swarmed over long idle ships and docks at the San Francisco waterfront today, returning operations to a normal 85 percent of normal, according to the Waterfront Employers Association.

Thomas G. Plant, president of the Waterfront Employers Association, approximately 2,000 men,prising 111 gangs out of 200 closed, worked 35 ships. Several vessels still awaited unloading of their cargoes.

SCHEDULE RESUMED

Return of peace to the waterfront was signaled by announcement of the Pacific Steamship lines that freighter service toward their Admiral line ship temporarily suspended Oct. 1, had been resumed.

"We are pleased to announce resumption of service with an augmented fleet of freighters, providing for three sailings weekly as against two formerly—from Sunset Sound ports. One sailing will proceed directly to Wilmington, the other two to Southern California ports via San Francisco."

"An innovation is the establishment of a direct freighter service northbound from Wilmington to Seattle, sailing every Saturday."

"Weekly sailings to and from Columbia river ports also will be resumed."

A dozen ships, affected by the announcement, were to resume service at once.

Friday the joint labor relations committee will consider employers' demands for registration of additional longshoremen. Employers pointed out present congestion on the docks as evidence of the need of additional longshoremen. The union flatly opposed the move as unnecessary.

Townsend Served In Libel Action

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 9. (UP.)—Summons to answer a $25,000 libel suit brought by a former Townsend Club organizer, was handed Dr. F. E. Townsend founder of the pension movement, who appeared at a "peace meeting" here tonight.

The summons also was served on Edward J. Margrett, national co-ordinator of the Townsend organization. It was brought by Sam J. Daley, former eighth congressional district organizer and leader of a "rebel" movement claiming an accounting of Townsend Club funds.

Stone Memorial For First Man Killed

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMIES IN THIS FIELD, Oct. 9.—Comrades today piled a rough chain of stones on a hilltop as a memorial to the first Italian soldier, a young lieutenant, to fall in the push into Ethiopia.

Italian officers said the officer was commanding a platoon of natives who were engaged in building a bridge October 2. They asserted the platoon was surprised by Ethiopian soldiers who fired from a hillside and the young officer, after giving the order to charge, fell dead with a dozen bullets in his body.

PARIS, Oct. 9. Americans in Europe are disregarding President Roosevelt's warning that they travel on Italian ships at their own risk, shipping officials said today.

"The President's proclamation has not scared the Americans," commented S. A. Boyes, American Express Company's general manager for Italy.

COLOR PICTURE COMPANY WILL BE ORGANIZED

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9—UP—Organization of a color film producing company, under the wing of David Selznick, which will develop its industry, as one of its chief contributions to the industry, was announced tonight.

The new film firm will take over the assets and contract of David O. Selznick Productions, including contracts with United Artists Distributors.

NO STOCK OFFER
In addition to Selznick, the new producing company will be backed by C. V. Whitney, John Gray Whitney and Louis Lehman, banker, all of New York, and Dr. A. H. Giannini, Calif. real banker.

No stock in the new group will be offered the public. Chief stockholders will be the two Whitneys, Mrs. Charles S. Fayson, Lehman and the Selznick brothers.

FIRST FILM
First production unit will be started November 15 with Fred the Bartholomew, child actor, starring in "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

David Selznick, one of the pioneers in motion picture business, has directed for Paramount, Metro-Goldwyn Mayer and accomplished the merger of Radio and Pathé pictures. He was vice-president of the latter organization, later returning to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in a similar capacity.

Myron Selznick, head of one of the most important agencies in Hollywood, controls most of the important names in the industry. He was reportedly behind the recent squabble between Myrna Loy and Louis B. Mayer.

Formation of a producing unit will give the brothers Selznick an important grip on numerous star performers, particularly those who have abstained from tying themselves up with contracts, according to film colony observers.

YOUR HEALTH

Some Random Observations on Ills, From Colds to Nervous Conditions

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

WE KNOW of no cure for a cold. We even do not know its exact cause. When a cold is just starting a hot bath and brisk rub, a teaspoon of baking soda taken by the stomach, and a night's rest in bed will often stop it. After a cold is once well established, even if well treated, it will usually last for three weeks. With no treatment, it will last twenty-one days.

See? The time to cure a cold is before you catch it. Keeping the body in a healthy condition is the best way to prevent a cold. If you catch cold frequently and without apparent cause, it is probable that you have the germs in your nose and throat most of the time.

are seemingly real injections of vaccine into the muscles at intervals of four or five days to the number of seven or eight injections is advised. The vaccine is made from your own nasal mucous membrane discharges or a stock vaccine made from the common bacteria found in a cold will frequently prevent your catching cold as often as usual.

A small dose given at the commencement of a cold may abort it. The results of frequent small doses of vaccine may protect you from a cold for many months.

Needs Some Rest

Do not ask a physician to prescribe for you while he is on his vacation, on the street, or at a dinner. He is entitled to some rest. He cannot properly examine you and he may ruin a twenty-five year reputation on a snap judgment. The place to consult a physician is in his office or in your home, when he can give you his whole mind and attention.

A snap diagnosis, even by the most efficient physician is a dangerous thing. It is so easy to overlook a vital point.

The mounting prices of our daily foods may soon cause us to say, with the natives of Labrador, "Us in Labrador has to cook what us finds to eat and be thankful us has it."

Cathartics are always dangerous, but much more so in a case of acute appendicitis. It may change an inflamed appendix into a ruptured one.

In treating a child's nervous condition, there should be a definite time for meals, play and rest. Never tell a child he is nervous, and do not mention any nervous conditions in his presence. Many a normal child has been changed into a hypochondriac by his mother describing his fidgets to her callers. A child is either a bundle of nervous energy or a stoic, and who wants a dull, doleful child around the house?

Stuffing the Baby

If a mother can be made to understand that stuffing her baby in an effort to see him gain weight may be responsible for his night terrors, his indigestion or his blotchy eczematous skin the cure should be simple. If nature intended us to be constipated it seems rather certain that we should have been born with a box of laxative pills in one hand; but she doesn't.

Few laxatives, indeed few medicines of any kind, are more abused by the public than the saline cathartics. It is a common saying that they thin the blood. As they draw a large amount of fluid from the system, would it not be more logical to say they thicken the blood?

Common sayings often do not make common sense. From any sensible point of view, no reason can be found for looking on mental disease as a disgrace or trying to hide it. It would be more sensible to consider your child's attack of diphtheria, scarlet fever, or small pox a disgrace to the family and the community.

It is poor psychology to place too much food on the table, since its presence stimulates the appetite to consume more than is needed. One of the greatest American evils is over-loading the table and the consequent over-eating.

Short Cuts

Save fuel by cooking three foods over one flame in a triplicate set of saucepans. The set referred to has three one-and-a-quarter quart saucepans, a separate steel base to protect them and distribute the heat, and a separate handle that fits each pot.

Left-over veal, beef and lamb, if tenderly cooked, may be made over into dainty and delicious croquettes for the next day's meal.

When bathing the baby be sure to lower him gently into his bath at all times. Otherwise don't be surprised if he should cry and develop a distaste for the bath. When lowered suddenly or abruptly, he senses loss of support and gets panicky.

Profiles For Today

J. Ray Murphy New Legion Head

By TALBOT LAKE

HAIL the new Commander of the American Legion! J. Ray Murphy is Irish and can sing a mean Irish tenor. The recent convention, however, did not elect him for that reason. He has done much good work for the Legion from his home town of Ida Grove, Iowa, and his reward has come. By profession he is an insurance commissioner, so that his law experience has come in very handy for his Legionnaires who need advice on Government compensation matters.

Ray Murphy joined the National Guard at sixteen. Naturally, he participated in the trial war on the Mexican border and then moved on to the Great War as a machine gunner. He won his rank of Captain while in France. In 1925 and 1926 he was head of the Iowa Department of the American Legion and in 1929 he became a member of the national executive committee of the Legion, an office he was to hold four years. This brought him national attention, and his name was brought up with little dissent at the St. Louis convention.

His program includes a demand for the payment of the bonus as a campaign to stamp out propaganda opposite to the interests of the United States.

Murphy was born on an Iowa farm and early showed athletic inclinations. As a high school athlete he once won a state track meet almost single-handed, and at the University of Iowa he was captain of the football team in his senior year. Therefore, it is not difficult to imagine that the forty-eight-year-old, 235-pound six-footer of today can still take care of himself pretty well.

One of his buddies said: "Ray Murphy is the last man in Iowa that I'd choose for a fist fight." And he fights in other ways except with his fists.

Supper of Leftovers

If you are economizing, look to your left-overs and the egg supply, and build your supper around them. Cooked left-overs, meat, fish, fowl or vegetables, added to scrambled eggs, will give you a tasty and nutritious main dish.

Making Own Cosmetics Is Money-Saver

By JACQUELINE HUNT

WHEN you must live within a home too ample budget, resourcefulness is the greatest friend you can have. You may not be able to afford fluffy, fragrant cleansing creams, luxurious mask preparations, bath oils and the many other beauty aids that women enjoy, yet you can be beautiful.

You can purchase such other basic beautifiers as witch hazel, almond meal, toilet lanoline, cocoa butter, glycerin and rose water from which you can make simple preparations. Best of all, you can buy them at reasonable prices and they will last indefinitely. If you cannot find these preparations in your own local drugstore, you can turn to your old friend, the mail order catalog.

Then, with a little imagination you can put many of the things on your pantry shelf to work for you. Olive oil is nature's own skin softener. Cereals are gently bleaching, and softening. Pure cream and milk are softening and slightly astringent. Buttermilk is bleaching. Use milk always after thoroughly cleansing the skin. Leave on for an hour, then rinse away in tepid water. Finish with ice water if possible.

Fresh fruits and vegetables will keep your system clean and healthy, and their juices can often be used for softening and bleaching your skin. The juice from cut tomatoes, cucumbers and lemons can be used for clearing and bleaching the skin and for removing stains.

Do not overlook the really excellent cosmetics at prices that are within the reach of everyone. You should have at least one good cold cream that you can use for cleansing when your skin is chapped and tender and for softening.

If your skin has started to show wrinkles, then you should try to afford a good night cream. If you need an astringent, either get one of the large containers of your favorite brand or use plain witch hazel diluted with plain water or rose water.

Buy a paste rouge to make your cheeks and lips more youthful and a good powder that matches your complexion tones. If your eyebrows are light colored or scanty you will also need an eyebrow pencil and you should save your pennies for a tiny bottle of really good perfume to keep romance alive.

If your hair lacks luster, use fresh eggs worked to a stiff froth as a shampoo preparation. And follow with a good lemon rinse. It leaves the hair gloriously soft, lustrous and full of life. Lemon juice is also an excellent tonic for your scalp.

This season's crop of coats provides a fabric scarf to cross under the fur. What a year for scarfs this is, and what a wide assortment of fabrics and furs are used for them. Which reminds me to tell you that on the Riviera, which is pretty spirited just now, owing to the fact that the Prince of Wales has taken a villa there, women are affecting handkerchiefs instead of hats, and wearing them in the peasant manner, which is to say tied demurely under their chins. It's a bit of a plan. The season's hats may be experimented with, worn at a thousand different angles, and each fraction of an inch fore, or aft, or sideways makes in effect, another hat.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "Until recently I have had a smooth, very fair skin. Now it is brownish and irregular in coloring. Can you tell me if there is a harmless bleach for my skin? My blonde hair has also become rather oily and it seems darker. Should I use a bleach for keeping its pale gold tones?"

ANSWER: "The change in the condition of your skin and hair suggests there has been some change in your living habits or physical condition. You should check up on both. Be thorough in your skin care and shampoos. Use a very mild bleaching agent, such as lemon juice or hydrogen peroxide, to which a few drops glycerin and toilet ammonia have been added. The circulation ointments will help clear your skin and restore its fair coloring."

It is probably the excess oil that gives your hair a darker appearance. Shampoo more frequently and use a lemon rinse to cut any remaining oil and soap and make your hair fluffy and soft.

QUESTION: "I have many little white, hard specks in my skin, especially across my cheeks and chin. How can I remove these?"

ANSWER: "Packaged crackers of the same size as eruptions are often served in place of croutons. These do not require breaking. They go into the soup as they are, the guest helping himself to a spoonful. Oyster crackers, on the other hand, may be broken into the soup, two or three at a time, or you bet eaten in place of bread, either plain or with a little butter added."

QUESTION: "When food that is too hot is taken into the mouth, what is the best way to dispose of it?"

ANSWER: "Reach for the drinking water and swallow it. Once food is taken into the mouth, it may be ejected onto the fork or into the plate."

Young Crowd Going Strong Business Girls Should For Velveteen Plan Their Menus Ahead

By IRENE VAIL

New York—The younger crowd has been bewitched by velveteen. They are wearing any amount of it, and in lovely warm shades of blue, green, and brown. They are among the simple things we are finding to our liking in a world where mad over elaborate ones. "Simple" draperies have become most complicated. They seem, in many instances, to have got out of hand.

There's no doubt about the success of the brief fur garment, be it cape or jacket, or about the success of coats that are free from the shoulder, and may be worn with or without a belt. There is no doubt of the success of coats with snug, not overly abundant, collars. As a contradiction to this there are other coats with rippling revers or straight ones, and coats with enormous collars. But, after all, one has one's choice.

This season's crop of coats provides a fabric scarf to cross under the fur. What a year for scarfs this is, and what a wide assortment of fabrics and furs are used for them. Which reminds me to tell you that on the Riviera, which is pretty spirited just now, owing to the fact that the Prince of Wales has taken a villa there, women are affecting handkerchiefs instead of hats, and wearing them in the peasant manner, which is to say tied demurely under their chins. It's a bit of a plan. The season's hats may be experimented with, worn at a thousand different angles, and each fraction of an inch fore, or aft, or sideways makes in effect, another hat.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "What is the proper way to behave at table when it becomes necessary to cough or sneeze?"

ANSWER: "Get the handkerchief ready and cough or sneeze into it with the mouth and nose covered, the head turned to one side and slightly inclined."

QUESTION: "Please tell me whether it is correct to break crackers into soup?"

ANSWER: "Packaged crackers of the same size as eruptions are often served in place of croutons. These do not require breaking. They go into the soup as they are, the guest helping himself to a spoonful. Oyster crackers, on the other hand, may be broken into the soup, two or three at a time, or you bet eaten in place of bread, either plain or with a little butter added."

QUESTION: "When food that is too hot is taken into the mouth, what is the best way to dispose of it?"

ANSWER: "Reach for the drinking water and swallow it. Once food is taken into the mouth, it may be ejected onto the fork or into the plate."

MODERN WOMEN

Women Can Team Better With Men Than With Their Own Sex

By MARIAN MAY, LINDEN

WOMEN have so frequently been accused of not being good sports it is no surprise to hear that Helen Willis Moody shares this opinion. Yet Helen Moody is a good sport, and so are plenty of "modern" women in her triumphant career on the tennis courts. Can it be that ideas of good sportsmanship differ from those of the "old" women, by and large, and a different conception of the term "team"?

You and Your Child

Child Needs Freedom In Walking

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

MOTHER walked sedately, but the young child whose hand she held was as active as puppy tugging on its leash, this way and that. Several times little Peggy tried to wriggle loose from mother's hold.

Once she succeeded, and to her mother's several calls to come back, paid no heed. She was making a dash for freedom and for the moment nothing else mattered. When mother caught up with her, the recaptured child had her hands slapped as punishment for trying to make a get-away. The mother took Peggy's hand in hers and walked in silence beside a whiny, frustrated, disgruntled little girl. But mother was satisfied. The child was much easier to walk with now that a little sense had been slapped into her.

Is it then so necessary that a child should "walk nicely beside mother"? I think it is not. The important thing, rather, is to limit his freedom to safety. Explain that in a crowd or before crossing a street you want to hold his hand. Otherwise let him walk alone. Of course, he won't walk. But then why should he when he can skip and hop or jump over the lines of the sidewalk squares? If you give a child "the rope" to do these things according to his whim, it becomes a simple matter to get him back again to your side when you want him.

One little girl of my acquaintance does not mind walking side by side with mother, so long as there is no need for holding hands. Her mother interprets it as a sign of growing independence and not stubbornness, and lets her walk alone. Many city mothers have asked her, "How did you teach your little girl to stay beside you like that?" The answer is, "We play a game. When it is safe, I say, 'Let me see you race or skip to that pole and back.' She always comes right back and waits to be challenged again."

The majority of women are prone to judge the importance of things by their relation to them. They are not given to interests which have no personal application to their lives.

We have all known women who insisted on having the center of the stage and who would break no rivalry from others who might steal the show. To a great extent all women are like that. It is something of the same trait which makes it difficult for women to become much engrossed in affairs that do not center around themselves.

For a man to put through any sort of business deal it is necessary for him to see the other fellow's viewpoint in order to combat it. Men are so accustomed to doing just that they can more easily see the other fellow's point of view and understand his reactions, both of which are necessary in good team work.

Long practice has made it easier for men than for women. But I do not believe it is impossible for a woman to see both sides of the question or to give her heartiest cooperation to an undertaking involving others. That's what teamwork really is.

I think I shall have to admit that a defeated tennis team playing men's doubles would probably be fairer to each other than a defeated women's doubles team. I think the chances are the men would be fair enough to concede they were both equally responsible for going down to defeat, while one of the women on the defeated team would be much more inclined to blame her partner for losing the game. If this is true in tennis, it is true in any partnership made up of two women. I am not going to try to prove that women are as fair to each other as men, for I do not honestly think they are, much as I regret having to admit it. I now think women would infinitely rather have business dealings with men than with other women.

What About Marriage?
Youth teams with youth, and what, pray, is marriage but a team playing the rest of the world and playing to win?

If women are individualists against such odds it seems to me it is to their credit. Nor is it particularly creditable to be interested in success from a purely personal angle. Self-preservation is instinct. Pulling oneself first over the line generally pulls one's team over, too.

History gives us plenty of examples of women who have subordinated their interests to those of their makes, who have placed themselves first, but a bad second to their husbands. I know that this story will also show us many cases of utterly selfless women who have been good sports, and who have insisted on playing the game their way, or to their advantage, or otherwise refuse to play at all.

See Others' Viewpoint
For a man to put through any sort of business deal it is necessary for him to see the other fellow's viewpoint in order to combat it. Men are so accustomed to doing just that they can more easily see the other fellow's point of view and understand his reactions, both of which are necessary in good team work.

Electrification Plans
In the first official announcement of plans and terms for rural electrification loans since July 11, Rural Electrification Administrator Morris L. Cooke said the project tests, among other things, would require that the projects be self-liquidating. No grants are contemplated. REA will under suitable conditions lend the entire cost of building power and light lines in areas now without electric service. Normally loans will be for twenty years with interest, normally, at three per cent.

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without making the liver discharge its excess bile. That's why the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills. What every constipated person needs is a good liver tonic like Plantax. It thoroughly cleanses the digestive system of all food secretions and at the same time restores the torpid liver to proper working order. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, coated tongue, yellow skin, sour stomach, gas, bilious attacks or other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble.

Plantax is made from the juices of harmless medicinal plants—Nature's own remedy—that act in a mild, easy way without weakening or irritating the organs. Try it tonight. Large size 14¢ and good drug stores.
